

Report on the County consultations on Kenya's Draft Food Safety Policy and Bill
September 19-25, 2021

Name/Title: Charity Mutegi, FAEA Representative, Kenya Start date: 09/19/2021
Destination (City/Country): Naivasha, Kenya End date: 09/25/2021

Preamble: The constitution of Kenya requires that national bills and policies undergo sufficient consultations at county level, before they are taken for debate in Parliament. In this regard, and following the national consultations that were held on the proposed food safety policy and bill, the two documents were subjected to a rigorous exercise that sought to collect views of stakeholders at county level. The conclusion of this exercise paves way for the national validation, another requisite step, before the bill is taken to cabinet for approval, and then to parliament for enactment.

Purpose of the county consultations

1. To seek the views of county level stakeholders, on the food safety policy and bill.
2. To fulfill the constitutional requirement regarding national legislation

Key Observations made during the exercise

1. The turnout in all the counties was above 90 percent, with some counties recording over 100 percent turn-out. There was also active participation of members invited.
2. There was a good mix/representation of stakeholders that included county staff from agriculture, health, and trade departments. Also participating were agricultural and food producers, and processors. A list of participants who took part in the consultations is provided in Annex 8. Those whose names were not captured clearly in the registration forms are not in the report list.
3. Majority of the comments were focused on how the bill and policy can be improved, and there was no group/persons that championed for the disapproval of the bill. A report from each group that documents specific comments from the county participants is attached (Annex 3-Team 1, Annex 4-Team 2, Annex 5-Team 3, Annex 6-Team 4). To assist in data capture, a rapporteur was assigned to each team. A sample of the consultations in picture form is provided (Annex 8).
4. Matters of feed safety came up in several instances, with many members proposing its inclusion into the bill.
5. Counties such as Meru that had already initiated food safety policies and bills at County level made proposals to align their bills and policies to the two documents.
6. Consultations took place in all Counties with an exception of Lamu County. The County borders Somali's coastline, and there have been logistical challenges in the region due to security-related threats.
7. All state agencies that participate in the national food safety taskforce were represented in the teams that conducted the consultations. They included members from health, who were represented in all the four teams. A list of all team members is provided in Annex 2.
8. Members were divided into four groups to enable them cover all of Kenya's 47 counties. Each team handled a specific group of counties (Annex 2).
9. Logistics arrangements were very involving, and Rootooba depended on the team leaders to assist in several sites since we were thinly stretched. Rootooba had to make staggered payments to team leaders, in order to manage resource expenditures and accounting.

10. There were savings from the exercise, due to the unspent funds from the County of Lamu, and the favorable dollar -Kenya Shilling exchange rate that was negotiated with the bank by Rotooba
11. Rotooba had to meet the cost of printing the revised bills once more. While FAEA had indicated that they would not be reprinting the revised bills, the taskforce was not able to print these as earlier recommended. This expenditure was therefore offset from funds received from FAEA for the exercise.
12. A summary of expenditure is provided below. A detailed expenditure report has been sent to FAEA Executive Director.

Next steps:

A task force meeting to consider and incorporate comments from county consultations.
Note: The meeting has already been successfully held.

Summary of recommendations

- a. There is need to reach out to stakeholders in Lamu County in order for their comments to be captured before the national validation exercise is concluded.
- b. A chance to be given to key stakeholders who did not get an opportunity to engage with the policy and bill so as to send in their comments before the taskforce meets for the last time. A proposal is to invite them to submit their comments during the national validation process.

Itinerary

A general program (Annex 1) was used by all teams, who were nevertheless given the flexibility of adjusting it depending on the specific circumstances on the ground. The team reports shared were therefore generated from customized engagements by each team. Due to their size, these have been attached as separate annexes for each group.
